THE LADY WHO LIVES IN A TREE HOUSE AND WILDFLOWERS

Paperback. Book Condition: New. Laurel Marie Sobol (illustrator). Paperback. 58 pages. Two special stories in this book: The Lady Who Lives in a Tree House and Wildflowers! These are wonderful nature stories with The Lady in the Tree House being about fantasy and sustainable forests as a viable source of trees and oxygen for people and forest dwellers. Wildflowers is about Laurel, her big brother John, and their Mama as they venture out on a beautiful morning to greet the sunrise high above the San Fernando Valley. It is early in the morning and the sun has not yet risen. See how the family ventures forth on this day to appreciate life and nature. Reading these selections is like being there! There is a special excerpt in this book with the first chapter of Two Wandering Albatrosses Make a Difference in the World. Laurel Marie Sobol is an inspirational author and illustrator of fine art. She believes that a healthy world equates to healthy inhabitants. Thus her art and literary works are geared toward the appreciation of earth, sustainability, green, recycling, reducing waste, and using natural forms of energy that don't contaminate the earth for thousands of years like nuclear energy. Laurel is an advocate for wildlife and nature for it is these innocent creations that can't speak for themselves to better their circumstances on this earth. The animals and plants need protection just as humans do for healthy living and longevity. The ideal world involves human and nature interaction and appreciation. If you take one away from the other neither will be fully functional and adjusted. Humans without a healthy natural environment can't be at their best. Nature without human assistance can't be at its best either. Join a cooperative effort and appreciation of humans, wildlife and nature and voila...
